DAILY BULLETIN.

NEW arrival of Ladies' Tailored

Suits and Monte Carlo Jackets.

We are now in the best shape to please the ladies of Coshocton Co., than we have ever been, in the way of Ready-to-wear Garments.

The Latest Styles,
The Lowest Prices,
The Best Makes,
The Best Fitting Garments,
The Largest Stock.

No firm in the state of Ohio, in a town of 50000 people can show a better assortment of

Cloaks, Suits, Capes, Skirts, Waists, etc.,

In fact we have too many goods in our Cloak Room, to do them justice, but they are for sale and if prices cut any figure we will have no trouble in selling every garment or suit we have in stock and plenty more that we expect to order later on.

All we ask is a look at our immense stock. You are at liberty to take any garment in our stock to your home and compare with any line on earth. This is a wide, wide world and a few manufacturers of cloaks can make good stuff, and we were fortunate in finding these few. No one can deny that we have the reputation of handling first class goods and that if any article purchased at our store proves unsatisfactory, we are only too glad to make same satisfactory to the purchaser. We do not claim to have all the best things on earth, we give our competitors credit of being able to secure good things as well as we. All we ask is a visit to our Cloak Department and we think we can please you.

SERMONS ON CANVAS

Were the Paintings of the Immortal Hogarth.

SCENE RE-ENACTED IN NEW YORK

[Special Correspondence No. 1238.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—It is a little less than two hundred years ago that William Hogarth, an English painter, gave to the world a series of wonderful pictures which awakened old England to a sense of its debauchery and crime, startling not only England but all the civilized nations of the world from its depth of degradation. Millions of people at the time stood around these wonderful pieces of canvas where a story was told that will never be forgotten and which left its impress upon the age and body of the time. In this world of ours all things are bound to wear out, or seeming to wear out, but within some mighty secret which was buried in the earth and went through a process of decay, it sprung forth with a new life, or even within the little grain of mustard seed is a proof that life eternal can never die. William Hogarth felt a spirit stirring within him like that which moved the apostles and soothsayers of old. The message came from his Master, the King of kings and the Lord of lords. It must be given to the wicked world or the prophet himself would perish. On these canvasses was that which men had been seeking for ages. He listened and went forth proclaiming the truth which every man from the equator to the poles could understand and which is as bright and clear today as it was to a sinful world over two hundred years ago.

It was on a quiet, Sunday evening when the bells were summoning sinners and saints alike to their places of worship that an ill-clad man and of no remarkable presence started out from his humble home to seek some better place of rest, for in his studio there was no peace, no rest for he had not yet proclaimed the truth which for day and night, in the summer's heat and the winter's cold command him to go forth and give to the world the message of a new evangel. He paused for a few moments in the silent street as he listened to the lewd songs and base cries which seemed as though wickedness was everywhere, and the new proclamation had not yet been born. It was from this dream that the world was awakened when William Hogarth sent forth his canvas entitled "Gin Lane," "The Marriage a la Mode," "The Bake's Progress" and others equally remarkable, which will stand as teachers in the schools of the world and as witnesses when William Hogarth shall seek to pass the gate of which St. Peter is the trusty guard. It was almost two hundred years later almost identical with the scene I described a few moments ago, that an humble reporter of one of New York's greatest journals sought admission to Harry Hill's Temple of vice. Though hardly a stone's throw from police headquarters, he was protected by the entire force of his particular district. The sums demanded for this police protection were enormous and enabled the captain of the police force of that precinct to retire with a plethoric sack lined with bright and shining silver and gold. There was another precinct, "The Tenderloin," from the ease with which the meat was cut and the sweet tenderness which made it the prime part of the roast.

As we look upon the wicked and base character of the men who are placed in commission to take charge of the city's enormous income, who were to divide the spoil among the henchmen and to be sure and not forget number one, with a sheet anchor in the harbor of peace and a kedge to the windward which insured them the comforts they so richly deserved in their old age. The singular feature about Harry Hill's hostelry was that no thief dare practice his vocation between its walls. Bad language was strictly forbidden, no conversation in a loud voice was permitted on Sabbath evenings, nor was solicitation by the soiled doves of the precinct permitted, and so far as outward appearances were concerned it might have been a meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions or a congregation of Sunday school superintendents discussing the best means of caring for the lambs of their flock. As I entered this temple of vice I found Harry Hill seated between a couple of alluring spirits which are met on our sidewalks every night after dark. Harry Hill himself, who could neither read nor write, was pointing out the sharp feature of Hogarth's great picture, "The Marriage a la Mode." The bridegroom of a few hours ago was being carried by some sympathizing friends to the bridal chamber in the most hilarious manner and quietly laid upon the floor. The streets were crowded with drunken witnesses and not very far away, where Whitechaple, the most notorious quarter of London, received a special bounty from the bridegroom for keeping away from the marriage feast. In the brief space of the canvas, scarcely 30 inches in width, was told one of the most fearful stories of wickedness and immorality that was ever given to the world. Looking at these remarkable paintings the question comes to our very souls, Whither are we drifting? Is New York to become a second Sodom? Are the criminals of the entire globe to be emptied upon us year after year without a sharp remonstrance that will not be forgotten?

Before me is the draft of a magnificent city, with beautiful thoroughfares, buildings twenty and thirty stories high as if piercing the clouds and one daring architect announces a building of 100 stories high. Whither is this ambition to lead, where is this stupendous energy to end? Speed is the shiboleth of the passing hour, and will we end this tremendous drama like Icarus, who invented wings with which we might fly to Heaven, but the jealous gods, angered at his ambition, melted the wax upon the wings and dashed him to pieces upon the globe which he had spurned? The manifestation of our present politics is not alluring, there is something rotten in Denmark when men like William S. Devery can come to the front as the exemplars of political virtue and uprightness. This brings us face to face with the corner stone upon which the temple of our liberty stands. The vote of the worst criminal that ever darkened the walls of our state prison is equal to that of William Waldorf Astor, Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan, if he shall have received the pardon of the governor five minutes before the legal term of his punishment expires. What a monstrous idea is this that the murderer, highway robber, a burglar, or a common thief, though their sins were as scarlet, shall be made white as wool by the stroke of a corrupt governor's pen. They ask for no repentance, they seek no reformation, but they exercise this tremendous power by their corrupt will alone. Reflecting on the safety and purity of the freeman's ballot, we are compelled to ask ourselves if our representative republic is the highest, noblest and best form of human government.

A case in point occurred a few years ago, in a neighboring state. A notorious horse thief, gambler and murderer, of great political power, killed a gambler just like himself, in a dispute about money won and lost. The lie passed between the disputants, pistols were drawn, an explosion was heard, and one fell dead at the feet of the other. Sol Somer, the mountain thief and gambler, was tried convicted and condemned to the state prison for life. An election was coming on and the influence of this notorious criminal was worth a hundred votes. A few prominent politicians got up a petition to the governor, it was signed by people of high and low degree without reflection. The governor wanted to succeed himself and, urged by intimate political friends, he signed the decree which liberated Sol Somer and he went forth from St. Quintan a free man, privileged to exercise the highest prerogative of the highest and noblest citizen, that tremendous instrument, the freeman's ballot. Two days after his liberation from the state prison, in open day, he murdered a man in the streets of the town where he was convicted, Santa Barbara, who was the chief witness against him in his former conviction. Howls of rage, disappointment and indignation swept through the state like a cyclone, from the borders of Mexico to the British domain of Victoria, and the governor was buried so deep that he was never heard of in state politics again. Another election is now approaching in this state. Citizens of New York stand forth in defense of the freeman's pure ballot and let your motto be "God and the right."

BROADBRIM.

CAMBRIDGE WITHOUT GAS.

A Hot and Cold Time in Old Town Every Night.

They are having a high old time over in Cambridge because the natural gas for the entire city has been turned off. It is the outgrowth of a disagreement between the gas company and the council.

The gas company has been supplying Cambridge for several years on a basis of 15 cents per thousand. Within the past few years, however, the company's representatives claim the cost of securing and piping the gas has increased and the price must necessarily rise to correspond.

The company's franchise in Cambridge expired recently. Monday evening the city council met to consider the matter of a renewal. After prolonged discussion an ordinance was passed granting the company a franchise on the basis of 15 cents per thousand. The company demanded 25 cents per thousand with a rebate of 20 per cent for prompt yield and at 12:30 o'clock Monday night the gas was turned off.

Cambridge was in an unpleasant predicament Tuesday. All the large factories and nearly all of the homes of the city are piped with natural gas and in a great many cases no other provision is made for heating. There were many cold meals eaten in Cambridge as a consequence Tuesday.

The issue is plainly drawn. The council claims that it will settle on nothing save a 15 cent basis, and the company declares that until the net 20 cent rate is agreed to, no gas will be supplied.

At one o'clock this morning 500 people were parading the streets of Cambridge with a band, jollifying over the issuance of a temporary injunction by Judge Mackey making it mandatory on the Ohio Fuel Supply company to turn their gas into the mains supplying residences. The sheriff compelled the company to turn on the gas before midnight. It is said this is all that saved a riot.

The Cambridge Sun of yesterday is in the form of a half dozen handbills folded together. Their power is a gas engine, and without gas they were powerless.

TROUSERS DIDN'T FIT.

The home of Abraham Kimberly, a teamster living on the corner of Mulberry and Third, was visited by a burglar Monday night. He tried the window of a bedroom occupied by Horace Guenther and found it fastened. Then he succeeded in raising a window on the north side of the house and crawled in. Mr. Kimberly and the other members of the household were sleeping peacefully. The thief lifted Mr. Kimberly's trousers off the bed post, unbolted the door and walked out onto the porch. Here he went through the pockets and was rewarded with $3.90. He contented himself with this small compensation for his daring work and made good his escape, leaving the trousers on the porch. No member of the family was awakened and they knew nothing of their nocturnal visitor until morning. They have no clue to his identity.

MACCABEES OBSERVE

Tenth Anniversary of the Great and Growing Order.

THEY WILL CELEBRATE TONIGHT

The Membership is Composed Entirely of Ladies And No Men Need Apply.

This is a gala day for the Ladies of the Maccabees throughout the United States and Canada. The tenth anniversary will be celebrated by a grand rally in every hive and every member of the order will participate. On this day every member will wear a souvenir button, setting forth the fact that the order has reached its tenth birthday.

The greatest enthusiasm prevails and this grand rally will be one of the events of the year and will show the strength of the organization and the hold it has upon the people. With a membership of 104,278 they have cause to feel proud of their ten years' record. It is a fraternal benefit society giving life protection to its members in amounts of $250 to $2,000 and provides for the payment of one-tenth of a certificate annually to a member who is permanently or totally disabled. In the year 1901 they added 299 new hives which increased the membership 23,718. This year 16,093 members have been added. They are the ninth largest fraternal beneficiary society in the world.

The Ladies of the Maccabees is an order composed wholly of women and under their entire management and direction. There are no men connected with it and in this as much as anything is proof of woman's ability to adapt herself to the requirements of the business world and carry on a great financial enterprise unaided and alone. Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, of Detroit, Mich., is the supreme commander. She is one of the best parliamentarians among women in the United States, and Miss Bina M. West, whose home is in Huron, Mich., is supreme record keeper. She has held the office since the origin of the order and has grown into the work and has the love and respect of every member.

The hive in this city has over 60 members and is composed of the best class of people and is very prosperous. The officers are Emma Speckman, P. L. C.; Clara Strausser, L. C.; Anna S. Dokkenwadle, R. K.; Margaret Cheney, F. K.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in accord with all its sister hives in this country the doors will be thrown open to the public and all are invited to attend. They are proud of their hive and their record. The Warsaw hive will be here to join with them in the celebration.

The fore part of the evening will be devoted to a review of the order from its organization to its present splendid standing. The Shepler-Newton orchestra will enliven the evening with strains of beautiful music and an excellent program will be carried out. No admittance is charged and all are cordially invited.

THE NEW JURY LAW

Not Yet in Force Because it is Not Signed.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30—The secretary of state's office is being flooded with telegrams ordering copies of the new jury law.

The situation is embarassing to Mr. Laylin's force for the sufficiently embarassing reason that the so-called law is not a law. It has never been signed by the presiding officers of the house and senate, and a certified copy would hardly answer the needs of the court officers in the various counties.

In the meantime the wheels of justice are clogged and litigation is at a standstill. The legislature adjourned in such haste last week that a little matter like this could easily be overlooked.

All Smoke.

Passersby noticed smoke issuing from the room occupied by B. Coe's hardware store Tuesday night. The back door was forced open but the origin of the smoke was not visible. The entire shop, cellar and adjoining barber shop were searched but no flames could be discovered. Returning to the store room they found the smoke was coming from the stovepipe. The stove was filled with paper and litter and a fire was smoldering. The flue was stopped up causing the smoke to fill the room. Officer Waggoner took the litter out of the stove and carried it into the alley. With the exception of a few bursted doors and smoked eyes no damage was done. This is the second small fire Mr. Coe has had within ten days.

Tobacco Warehouse Merger.

Louisville, Sept. 30.—The Louisville Tobacco Warehouse company, which is composed of the majority of the tobacco warehouses of this city and controlling the greater portion of the leaf tobacco trade in Louisville, is submitting to its stockholders a proposition which, if they accept, will mean the purchase of seven more warehouses here, which will put it practically in control of the market. The outside warehouses already have set a price upon their business and good will, and their propositions have been accepted by President Bernard and the directors of the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse company, and the stockholders will soon pass upon the matter.

Battle Between Factions.

New York, Sept. 30. — A standing feud between two rival factions, one living in the Ghetto and the other near the Chinese quarter in this city, came to an open battle. Nearly 200 persons were engaged in a riot, which became so fierce that the police reserves were called out. Clubs, revolvers, knives, bricks and stones were used by the rioters, and many of the fighters were hurt. Thirteen arrests were made. During the fighting the residents of many blocks were in a state of terror, and it was three hours before quiet was restored. The immediate cause of the fight was the killing of Mike Dove, belonging to one of the factions.

New Orleans Strike.

New Orleans, Sept. 30.—The strike of streetcar men, which took place at daylight Sunday, continues without a break. Three mail cars were the only cars moved by the railway company. In the absence of streetcars, vehicles of all shapes, sizes and styles were brought into play, and have done a thriving business. The linemen of the New Orleans and Carrollton Light and Power company and also the linemen employed by the New Orleans Railway company, all members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, were ordered out on strike in sympathy with the streetcar men's union. About 75 or 80 men are affected by the new strike. The New Orleans Railway company has notified the mayor that the strike of their linemen will seriously interfere with the lighting of the city tonight.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Feeling Strong That Something Will Soon Be Done.

SECRET CONFERENCE CAUSES TALK

Mine Workers' Officials Who Participated Hold Their Peace, but the Sentiment at Headquarters Is That an Adjustment of Some Kind Is Pending—The Coal Famine.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—A mysterious conference took place in this city between President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy and another person, whose identity the other parties to the conference refused to divulge. At the office of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company it was stated positively that no official of that company had been present at the meeting. A member of Mr. Mitchell's party said: "There must necessarily be continued conferences and negotiations with the coal operating interests before the strike can be settled." At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Mitchell and the three district presidents left for Wilkesbarre and Secretary Wilson departed for Indianapolis. Senator Quay was not in the city and Senator Penrose denied having any communication, directly or indirectly, with Mr. Mitchell.

Something Doing.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30.—President Mitchell and District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahey of the United Mine Workers arrived in town from Philadelphia. Mr. Mitchell positively refused to make any statement as to the object of his visit to the Quaker City. The district presidents were also silent. A large crowd of labor leaders awaited President Mitchell's arrival, as it was expected he would have something important to say. The feeling is very strong at strike headquarters that a settlement of some kind is pending.

Operators on Mitchell.

New York, Sept. 30.—John Markle, the coal operator, discussing the statement of President Mitchell said: "Mr. Mitchell is not voicing the sentiment of the majority of the miners in the anthracite coal fields when he says the sentiment of the miners is against returning to work. All his statements have been refuted by the facts already given out by the operators." "But what is New York to do for coal?" was asked. "Give us protection and we will give you all the coal you want," replied Mr. Markle. He added that Mr. Mitchell's organization would not be recognized under any circumstances.

More Soldiers Sent Out.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—The Fourth regiment has been added to the state force of troops on duty in the anthracite strike region. Sheriff Dietrick called upon General Gobin for more troops to suppress the rioting in Northumberland county. The general called up Governor Stone by telephone and stated the situation, after which the executive board ordered out the Fourth regiment. A portion of the regiment will be located at Shenandoah and the remainder at Mount Carmel. Two of the companies of this regiment have been in the field for two months.

Steps to Relieve Coal Famine.

Detroit, Sept. 30.—Steps were taken by the special committee of the common council appointed for the purpose of holding a conference in this city, Sept. 10, of citizens from all parts of the country, to discuss ways and means of securing a supply of anthracite coal. Invitations were sent out by telegraph to the governors of all states in the east, middle west and northwest, and the mayors of the principal cities in those states, to send delegations to the conference, which it is hoped will have sufficient effect to bring about some settlement of the strike.

Government Ownership of Mines.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 30.—Plans for the organization of the People's Coal league were launched in this city by Herbert Myrick, who organized the League of Domestic Producers three years ago. The platform in brief is as follows: "We demand that the federal government own the coal mines and administer them in the interests of the whole people." Mr. Myrick asserts that the adoption of his plan will permanently solve the coal question by sending to congress men who have pledged themselves to favor government ownership of the coal mines.

Deserting the Companies.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 30.—The United Mine Workers' leaders assert that the nonunion men are deserting the companies and applying for admission to the union. The companies admit there have been desertions during the past week, but attribute them to the wholesale lawlessness which has recently prevailed. Now that the troops have suppressed disorder and are guaranteeing protection to any man who wants to work, there will be a big rush of men to get back into the mines, the companies say.

President's Condition.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The president has passed a comfortable morning, remaining most of the time in his wheel chair, by which means he could be moved to various parts of the room. He is reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

Won on Points.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia won on points from Joe Choynski in a six-round contest here. O'Brien throughout the fight was too fast for the Chicago man. As soon as the fight began O'Brien resorted to jabbing with his left, following this with his right to the jaw. O'Brien kept this up for five rounds, and during all this time Choynski was unable to land a single telling blow. When they came up for the last round Choynski began roughing it.

Farmer Shot.

Peshtigo, Wis., Sept 30.—Gust Z. Seifeld, a Peshtigo farmer, was shot in the side by his son. Seifeld, it is said, was pounding his wife, and the boy shot his father to protect his mother. The victim of the shooting died before the doctor reached the house. Several farmers have volunteered to go on the boy's bail.

Coal Dock Gave Way.

Ashland, Wis., Sept [illegible]—The giving away of the Jones & Adams coal dock allowed 9,000 tons of anthracite and bituminous coal to be spilled into the bay and did a damage to the dock which it will take thousands of dollars to repair. About 2,000 tons will be recovered. The approximate loss is computed at $45,000

Earthquakes In Central America.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 30.—The steamer Managua reports serious earthquakes on Sept. 23, extending from Puerto Barrios to Santa Tomas, Guatemala, and from Littee river to Belize, British Honduras. The shocks lasted three minutes and were simultaneous all along the coast. From the seismic movement it is believed Guatemala City was in the center of the disturbance. The wires are down between Guatemala City and the coast.

College Reopened.

Peking, Sept. 30. — The college at Tung Chou, province of Chi Li, which was destroyed in 1900 and where 145 Christians were massacred, has been reopened. Forty-eight officials and 8,000 Chinese who were once Boxers, and who now reside in the Tung Chou district, participated in the opening ceremonies. The college received many congratulatory gifts.

SERMONS ON CANVAS

Were the Paintings of the Immortal Hogarth.

SCENE RE-ENACTED IN NEW YORK

[Special Correspondence No. 1238.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—It is a little less than two hundred years ago that William Hogarth, an English painter, gave to the world a series of wonderful pictures which awakened old England to a sense of its debauchery and crime, startling not only England but all the civilized nations of the world from its depth of degradation. Millions of people at the time stood around these wonderful pieces of canvas where a story was told that will never be forgotten and which left its impress upon the age and body of the time. In this world of ours all things are bound to wear out, or seeming to wear out, but within some mighty secret which was buried in the earth and went through a process of decay, it sprung forth with a new life, or even within the little grain of mustard seed is a proof that life eternal can never die. William Hogarth felt a spirit stirring within him like that which moved the apostles and soothsayers of old. The message came from his Master, the King of kings and the Lord of lords. It must be given to the wicked world or the prophet himself would perish. On these canvasses was that which men had been seeking for ages. He listened and went forth proclaiming the truth which every man from the equator to the poles could understand and which is as bright and clear today as it was to a sinful world over two hundred years ago.

It was on a quiet, Sunday evening when the bells were summoning sinners and saints alike to their places of worship that an ill-clad man and of no remarkable presence started out from his humble home to seek some better place of rest, for in his studio there was no peace, no rest; for he had not yet proclaimed the truth which for day and night, in the summer's heat and the winter's cold command him to go forth and give to the world the message of a new evangel. He paused for a few moments in the silent street as he listened to the lewd songs and base cries which seemed as though wickedness was everywhere, and the new proclamation had not yet been born. It was from this dream that the world was awakened when William Hogarth sent forth his canvas entitled "Gin Lane," "The Marriage a la Mode." "The Rake's Progress" and others equally remarkable, which will stand as teachers in the schools of the world and as witnesses when William Hogarth shall seek to pass the gate of which St. Peter is the trusty guard. It was almost two hundred years later almost identical with the scene I described a few moments ago, that an humble reporter of one of New York's greatest journals sought admission to Harry Hill's Temple of vice. Though hardly a stone's throw from police headquarters, he was protected by the entire force of his particular district. The sums demanded for this police protection were enormous and enabled the captain of the police force of that precinct to retire with a plethoric sack lined with bright and shining silver and gold. There was another precinct, "The Tenderloin," from the ease with which the meat was cut and the sweet tenderness which made it the prime part of the roast.

As we look upon the wicked and base character of the men who are placed in commission to take charge of the city's enormous income, who were to divide the spoil among the benchmen and to be sure and not forget number one, with a sheet anchor in the harbor of peace and a kedge to the windward which insured them the comforts they so richly deserved in their old age. The singular feature about Harry Hill's hostelry was that no thief dare practice his vocation between its walls. Bad language was strictly forbidden, no conversation in a loud voice was permitted on Sabbath evenings, nor was solicitation by the soiled doves of the precinct permitted, and so far as outward appearances were concerned it might have been a meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions or a congregation of Sunday school superintendents discussing the best means of caring for the lambs of their flock. As I entered this temple of vice I found Harry Hill seated between a couple of alluring spirits which are met on our sidewalks every night after dark. Harry Hill himself, who could neither read nor write, was pointing out the sharp feature of Hogarth's great picture, "The Marriage a la Mode." The bridegroom of a few hours ago was being carried by some sympathizing friends to the bridal chamber in the most hilarious manner and quietly laid upon the floor. The streets were crowded with drunken witnesses and not very far away, where Whitechaple, the most notorious quarter of London, received a special bounty from the bridegroom for keeping away from the marriage feast. In the brief space of the canvas, scarcely 30 inches in width, was told one of the most fearful stories of wickedness and immorality that was ever given to the world. Looking at these remarkable paintings the question comes to our very souls, Whither are we drifting? Is New York to become a second Sodom? Are the criminals of the entire globe to be emptied upon us year after year without a sharp remonstrance that will not be forgotten?

Before me is the draft of a magnificent city, with beautiful thoroughfares, buildings twenty and thirty stories high as if piercing the clouds and one daring architect announces a building of 100 stories high. Whither is this ambition to lead, where is this stupendous energy to end? Speed is the shibboleth of the passing hour, and will we end this tremendous drama like Icarus, who invented wings with which we might fly to Heaven, but the jealous gods, angered at his ambition, melted the wax upon the wings and dashed him to pieces upon the globe which he had spurned? The manifestation of our present politics is not alluring, there is something rotten in Denmark when men like William S. Devery can come to the front as the exemplars of political virtue and uprightness. This brings us face to face with the corner stone upon which the temple of our liberty stands. The vote of the worst criminal that ever darkened the walls of our state prison is equal to that of William Waldorf Astor, Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan, if he shall have received the pardon of the governor five minutes before the legal term of his punishment expires. What a monstrous idea is this that the murderer, highway robber, a burglar, or a common thief, though their sins were as scarlet, shall be made white as wool by the stroke of a corrupt governor's pen. They ask for no repentance, they seek no reformation, but they exercise this tremendous power by their corrupt will alone. Reflecting on the safety and purity of the freeman's ballot, we are compelled to ask ourselves if our representative republic is the highest, noblest and best form of human government.

A case in point occurred a few years ago, in a neighboring state. A notorious horse thief, gambler and murderer, of great political power, killed a gambler just like himself, in a dispute about money won and lost. The lie passed between the disputants, pistols were drawn, an explosion was heard, and one fell dead at the feet of the other. Sol Somer, the mountain thief and gambler, was tried convicted and condemned to the state prison for life. An election was coming on and the influence of this notorious criminal was worth a hundred votes. A few prominent politicians got up a petition to the governor, it was signed by people of high and low degree without reflection. The governor wanted to succeed himself and, urged by intimate political friends, he signed the decree which liberated Sol Somer and he went forth from St. Quintan a free man, privileged to exercise the highest prerogative of the highest and noblest citizen, that tremendous instrument, the freeman's ballot. Two days after his liberation from the state prison, in open day, he murdered a man in the streets of the town where he was convicted, Santa Barbara, who was the chief witness against him in his former conviction. Howls of rage, disappointment and indignation swept through the state like a cyclone, from the borders of Mexico to the British domain of Victoria, and the governor was buried so deep that he was never heard of in state politics again. Another election is now approaching in this state. Citizens of New York stand forth in defense of the freeman's pure ballot and let your motto be "God and the right."

BROADBRIM.

CAMBRIDGE WITHOUT GAS.

They are having a high old time over in Cambridge because the natural gas for the entire city has been turned off. It is the outgrowth of a disagreement between the gas company and the council.

The gas company has been supplying Cambridge for several years on a basis of 15 cents per thousand. Within the past few years, however, the company's representatives claim the cost of securing and piping the gas has increased and the price must necessarily rise to correspond.

The company's franchise in Cambridge expired recently. Monday evening the city council met to consider the matter of a renewal. After prolonged discussion an ordinance was passed granting the company a franchise on the basis of 15 cents per thousand. The company demanded 25 cents per thousand with a rebate of 20 per cent for prompt yield and at 12:30 o'clock Monday night the gas was turned off.

Cambridge was in an unpleasant predicament Tuesday. All the large factories and nearly all of the homes of the city are piped with natural gas and in a great many cases no other provision is made for heating. There were many cold meals eaten in Cambridge as a consequence Tuesday.

The issue is plainly drawn. The council claims that it will settle on nothing save a 15 cent basis, and the company declares that until the net 20 cent rate is agreed to, no gas will be supplied.

At one o'clock this morning 500 people were parading the streets of Cambridge with a band, jollifying over the issuance of a temporary injunction by Judge Mackey making it mandatory on the Ohio Fuel Supply company to turn their gas into the mains supplying residences. The sheriff compelled the company to turn on the gas before midnight. It is said this is all that saved a riot.

The Cambridge Sun of yesterday is in the form of a half dozen handbills folded together. Their power is a gas engine, and without gas they were powerless.

TROUSERS DIDN'T FIT.

The home of Abraham Kimberly, a teamster living on the corner of Mulberry and Third, was visited by a burglar Monday night. He tried the window of a bedroom occupied by Horace Guenther and found it fastened. Then he succeeded in raising a window on the north side of the house and crawled in. Mr. Kimberly and the other members of the household were sleeping peacefully. The thief lifted Mr. Kimberly's trousers off the bed post, unbolted the door and walked out onto the porch. Here he went through the pockets and was rewarded with $3.90. He contented himself with this small compensation for his daring work and made good his escape, leaving the trousers on the porch. No member of the family was awakened and they knew nothing of their nocturnal visitor until morning. They have no clue to his identity.

Everybody loves the old songs. Who does not enjoy hearing "Kathleen Mavourneen well sung, "Annie Laurie," "The Lost Chord," etc.? These are only a suggestion of what will form a part of the recital by Walter Bentley Ball, the famous barytone. His splendid voice never fails to delight his audiences. MACCABEES OBSERVE

THEY WILL CELEBRATE TONIGHT

The Membership is Composed Entirely of Ladies And No Men Need Apply.

This is a gala day for the Ladies of the Maccabees throughout the United States and Canada. The tenth anniversary will be celebrated by a grand rally in every hive and every member of the order will participate. On this day every member will wear a souvenir button, setting forth the fact that the order has reached its tenth birthday.

The greatest enthusiasm prevails and this grand rally will be one of the events of the year and will show the strength of the organization and the hold it has upon the people. With a membership of 104,278 they have cause to feel proud of their ten years' record. It is a fraternal benefit society giving life protection to its members in amounts of $250 to $2,000 and provides for the payment of one-tenth of a certificate annually to a member who is permanently or totally disabled. In the year 1901 they added 299 new hives which increased the membership 23,718. This year 16,093 members have been added. They are the ninth largest fraternal beneficiary society in the world.

The Ladies of the Maccabees is an order composed wholly of women and under their entire management and direction. There are no men connected with it and in this as much as anything is proof of woman's ability to adapt herself to the requirements of the business world and carry on a great financial enterprise unaided and alone. Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, of Detroit, Mich., is the supreme commander. She is one of the best parliamentarians among women in the United States, and Miss Bina M. West, whose home is in Huron, Mich., is supreme record keeper. She has held the office since the origin of the order and has grown into the work and has the love and respect of every member.

The hive in this city has over 60 members and is composed of the best class of people and is very prosperous. The officers are Emma Speckman, P. L. C.; Clara Strausser, L. C.; Anna S. Dokkenwadle, R. K.; Margaret Cheney, F. K.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in accord with all its sister hives in this country the doors will be thrown open to the public and all are invited to attend. They are proud of their hive and their record. The Warsaw hive will be here to join with them in the celebration.

The fore part of the evening will be devoted to a review of the order from its organization to its present splendid standing. The Shepler-Newton orchestra will enliven the evening with strains of beautiful music and an excellent program will be carried out. No admittance is charged and all are cordially invited.

THE NEW JURY LAW

Not Yet in Force Because it is Not Signed.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—The secretary of state's office is being flooded with telegrams ordering copies of the new jury law.

The situation is embarassing to Mr. Laylin's force for the sufficiently embarassing reason that the so-called law is not a law. It has never been signed by the presiding officers of the house and senate, and a certified copy would hardly answer the needs of the court officers in the various counties.

In the meantime the wheels of justice are clogged and litigation is at a standstill. The legislature adjourned in such haste last week that a little matter like this could easily be overlooked.

All Smoke.

Passersby noticed smoke issuing from the room occupied by B. Coe's hardware store Tuesday night. The back door was forced open but the origin of the smoke was not visible. The entire shop, cellar and adjoining barber shop were searched but no flames could be discovered. Returning to the store room they found the smoke was coming from the stovepipe. The stove was filled with paper and litter and a fire was smoldering. The flue was stopped up causing the smoke to fill the room. Officer Waggoner took the litter out of the stove and carried it into the alley. With the exception of a few bursted doors and smoked eyes no damage was done. This is the second small fire Mr. Coe has had within ten days.

The duties of the board are to select judges and clerks of elections all over the county, tabulate the returns and certify them to the secretary of state.

MISS FAY LEE,

President of the Shakespearian Club, Kansas City.

Miss Fay Lee.

"Your booklet came to my home like a message of health when I had suffered with headache, backache and bearing-down pains. I was weak, nervous and hysterical and had not consulted any doctor, thinking it would pass away in time, but instead I found that the pains increased and were more frequent. I decided to try Wine of Cardui and in a short time was much improved. It seemed to act like a charm. I kept up the treatment and the result was most satisfactory. Words fail to express my gratitude for the suffering that is now saved me. I am in fine health, physically and mentally. I can only say 'thank you', but there is much more in my heart for you."

BEARING-DOWN pains are the worst that women know. If you are suffering from this trouble you need not be uncertain about it. The pains in the abdomen and back that feel as if heavy weights were pulling down on the nerves of the stomach are "bearing-down pains". They may not be particularly severe at present but they are growing worse. That headache which nearly drives you distracted now is caused by the terrible nervous tension. The nerves soon begin to give way under the strain. You perhaps jump at any unusual disturbance, or laugh or weep, hysterically, at no apparent cause. That is what Miss Fay Lee, 6031 North Seventh Street, Kansas City, Kansas, was coming to when she rescued herself by taking Wine of Cardui. The Wine made her a strong, healthy woman again, as it has made a million other women strong and healthy. By inducing regular menstruation the entire system is relieved of the terrible wasting drains. The ligaments which hold the womb in place are strengthened by a healthy flow and that organ is returned to its normal position. Returning health is the result. This is what Wine of Cardui has done for thousands of the best women in America.

If you need advice write The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn., describing all your symptoms freely, and a letter of advice will be sent you. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

DISCUSS THE STRIKE.

President and Advisers Hold a Lengthy Conference.

NO DEFINITE CONCLUSION REACHED.

Laws and Constitution Found to Afford No Means of Federal Interference, but Another Meeting Will Be Held — Big Gathering at Detroit. Day's Developments.

Washington, Oct. 1.—At the temporary White House, President Roosevelt was in conference with Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody, Postmaster General Payne and other advisers Ways and means to end the anthracite strike were discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the president was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be federal interference by any warrant of law There has been no interference with federal authority in the mining region either by the stoppage of the mails or resistance of the United States court process. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of federal troops, as Governor Stone of Pennsylvania had not called on the government for assistance nor had he even exhausted the resources of the state by calling out the full strength of the state militia. The question of the right to seek appointment of receivers for the mines in order that they might be operated was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the federal government could only intervene through receivers. The tenor of the whole discussion was to the effect that there was a lack of the power in the federal administration to take any action at the present stage of the strike, although the seriousness of the coal famine now and the much greater evils soon to follow were considered at length, and with a wish to discover some method of ending the industrial deadlock.

Another conference will be held at which time Secretary Root, who has been in New York, will be present. It is understood that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject.

The Detroit Meeting.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—The telegraphic invitations sent out by Mayor William C. Maybury to governors of a number of states and the mayors of the principal cities in the east, middle west and northwest, asking them to send delegations to participate in a national conference on the coal strike, have met with a number of acceptances and the proposed conference bids fair to be a tremendous gathering. Governor Nash of Ohio wired: "I have no authority of law for appointing the delegates suggested. If I act it will be a merely voluntary matter, and if citizens attend on such appointment it will be a voluntary act on their part. I have no confidence in the efficacy of unauthorized acts upon the part of officials."

Mitchell Willing.

Detroit, Oct. 1. — President D. M. Parry of the National Association of Manufacturers received from President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers a telegram agreeing on behalf of the mine workers to appoint a committee to meet a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike. Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent another telegram suggesting Buffalo as place of meeting any day this week Mitchell cared to name.

President Baer's Prediction.

New York, Oct. 1.—President Baer was asked if there would be enough coal in this city to supply the demand before winter sets in. "Oh, certainly," he said. "This idea that there is going to be a scarcity of coal this winter is simply a scare. There will be plenty of coal in New York before the cold weather."

Ghastly Find.

New York, Oct. 1. — The headless and armless and almost nude body of a young woman was found floating in the East river. There was nothing about the remains to give any clew to their identity. The police are not prepared to say that the woman was murdered, because the dismembered portions of the body may have been torn from it after the remains had been drifting about. The woman was about 22 years old and weighed about 130 pounds She was 5 feet 5 inches tall.

Wisconsin at Panama.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The navy department received a cablegram announcing the arrival of Rear Admiral Silas Casey aboard his flagship, the Wisconsin, at Panama, after an almost unequalled run down the Pacific coast of 3,277 miles in one day less than two weeks. Rear Admiral Casey will assume general command of the American naval forces on the isthmus.

Rhode Island Democrats.

Providence, Oct. 1.—The Democratic state convention here is likely to be the closest and most exciting known in Rhode Island politics. The important battle will be over the nomination for governor, and the rival candidates are Mayor John J. Fitzgerald of Pawtucket and Dr. L. J. E. Garvis, assemblyman from Cumberland

New Orleans Strike.

New Orleans, Oct 1. — The conditions in the streetcar strike from the standpoint of the guardians of peace are very satisfactory. No trouble occurred, being due, it is said, to the fact that no effort was made to move any cars other than those carrying the mails. The action of the New Orleans street railway companies in causing the arrest of officers and members of the union and seeking the intervention of the federal courts, while the local authorities had shown that they were fully equal to cope with the situation, has apparently intensified public sympathy for the strikers

Gun Accidentally Discharged.

Omaha, Oct. 1.—George R. Voss, a prominent bond and security broker and son-in-law of Henry W. Yates, president of the Nebraska National bank, accidentally shot and killed himself near the Omaha Gun club grounds. No one was with him at the time, he having preceded the party a short distance, but it was evident he had stopped to rest and in rising the gun had discharged, the contents entering his head beneath the jaw. He was dead when his companions reached the spot.

Granted a New Trial.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—The supreme court of North Carolina granted James Wilcox, charged with the murder of Nellie Cropsey in Elizabeth City last November and sentenced to death, a new trial. In handing down its decision the court said the conduct of the senators in and about the court was sufficient to prejudice the jury. The case will be heard again Nov. 17.

Burial of Zola's Remains.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The remains of Zola will be interred in Montmartre cemetery. The funeral will be a civil ceremony, though probably the body will be accorded the military honors to which the deceased is entitled as an officer of the Legion of Honor. The League of the Rights of Man is organizing an imposing demonstration at the funeral, and has issued an appeal for subscriptions to erect a monument to the dead novelist.

SUBSIDY IS JUSTIFIED

England Rejoices Over the Cunard Arrangement.

PRAISES BESTOWED ON THE COMPANY

Belief Expressed That the Agreement Will Go Far Toward Rendering the Morgan Enterprise a More Risky Speculation—Fleet to Be at the Disposal of the Government.

London, Oct. 1. — The directors of the Cunard Steamship company sent a letter to the shareholders setting forth the terms of the proposed subsidy. It will include payment by the government of $750,000 annually, the company to build two large, fast steamers for the Atlantic trade. The agreement will remain in force 20 years after the completion of the second steamer. The company is to remain a British concern and an undertaking is to be given not to unduly raise freight rates. The assistance which the government under this arrangement renders the Cunard Steamship company is designed for the express purpose of meeting the alteration in conditions of transatlantic travel caused by the formation of the Morgan shipping combine. During the continuance of this agreement the Cunard company will hold its entire fleet, including any new vessels which it builds, at the disposal of the government.

The Cunard arrangements meet with the warmest approval both in Liverpool and London, and Baron Inverclyde, chairman of the company, who is credited with having been throughout resolute in resisting the policy of absorption by the Morgan combine, is the recipient of a shower of congratulations for having secured an unexpectedly favorable agreement with the government. Similar praises are liberally bestowed upon the government for its effective manner of meeting the Morgan combination. These feelings are expressed in all newspapers, and editorial articles on the subject, even in papers which have been most determined against the principle of subsidy, agree that in the present case a subsidy is justified.

The Standard says: "The Cunard agreement will go far to render Mr. Morgan's bargain a more risky speculation. We can almost feel grateful to the promoters of this inflated trust since we owe it to their enterprise that the strength of our navy will be substantially augmented."

Stage Coach Held Up.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The stage coach "Pioneer," which makes daily trips between Warwick and Goshen, was held up and robbed by three masked horsemen. The coach was bowling along the road two miles from Florida, and at a lonely spot on the road Clinton and Horatio S. Wisner, who own the coach and were on it, saw three men on horses suddenly emerge from the dense woods which line the highway. Clinton was driving. The robbers ordered him to pull up his horses, which he refused to do, and the highwaymen opened fire with revolvers. None of the shots took effect, but the shooting had the effect of compelling the whip to bring his horses to a stop. Inside the coach were Mrs. J. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. James Fuller, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Ed Johnson of Florida. While two of the highwaymen covered the Wisner brothers with their revolvers, the third, using many threats, compelled the passengers to give up all their money and valuables.

Attempted His Own Life.

New York, Oct. 1.—In financial difficulty as a result of the coal strike, Henry C. Scheel, a coal merchant of this city, tried to kill himself by shooting. The doctors say there is little hope for him. Mr. Scheel is 45 years of age. He lives with his wife and three children in a handsome residence and generally has been thought to be prosperous. A relative of Mr. Scheel said he had a large sum of money—about $200,000—tied up in litigation, and that his business was his source of revenue. The disturbance in the coal market had affected his business seriously, causing him to become despondent.

Louisville Horse Show.

Louisville, Oct. 1.—The opening night of the third annual exhibition of the Louisville Horse Show association brought together here fancy entries from England, Canada and seven states of this country. Nine classes were shown, including harness and saddle horses, roadsters, single, pairs and four-in-hand, hunters and jumpers. Aurel Batonyi, the noted eastern whip, won for Dr. John L. Wentz first money in high-stepping harness horse class with Lord Golden.

Bodies Recovered.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 1.—The bodies of L. L. Hunter and L. B. Magill, who were lost in the burning of the City of Pittsburg last April, 20 miles below Paducah, were found four miles below the wreck, and had apparently been covered with sand. They were wealthy manufacturers of Tidiout, Pa., and several thousand dollars had been spent by relatives in the effort to find the bodies.

COWBOYS TO RACE

From the Black Hills to Chicago. Heavy Wagers.

Lacrosse, Wis., Oct. 1.—James Bradley of the Black Hills, Dakota, who is visiting here, announces that notwithstanding President Roosevelt's prohibition of the cowboy race from the Black Hills to Chicago, it will take place Oct. 26. The amount of money wagered is over $50,000. Horse owners and those who are betting on the race will follow the bronchos in a special train to leave the same time the race is started and run on slow schedule, so as to arrive in Chicago at the same time as the racers.

PARTY LINES DRAWN.

The Ohio Senate Passes the Amended Code.

JUDICIAL SECTIONS ARE ELIMINATED.

House Inserts In the Bill the Curative Act Making Valid the Franchise of the Cincinnati Street Railway Company — News of the Buckeye State.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.—The senate passed the amended Nash code with the judicial sections eliminated. These sections will come to a vote late today. The house passed the curative act, to make valid the franchise of the Cincinnati Street Railway company. A compromise amendment on the Beal law was adopted by the senate. The house voted down a similar amendment.

The house reversed the action of the special committee on the proposition to insert the curative amendment in the municipal code, and by a vote of 55 to 34 attached the curative section to the measure. The proposition precipitated spirited debate. Mr. Comings at once moved to reconsider, saying that he did so for the purpose of having it voted down and the matter clinched. The roll was called and 32 voted for reconsideration and 54 against it.

The following Democrats voted for the insertion of the franchise amendment into the code: Messrs. Clyburn of Highland, Collier of Ashland-Holmes, Earhart of Richland, Gear of Wyandot, Gebrett of Henry, Partington of Shelby, Sharp of Fairfield, Wells of Wayne. The Republicans who voted against it are: Messrs. Chapman of Montgomery, Cole of Hancock, Demuth and Denman of Lucas, Hagenbuch of Champaign, Hypes of Clark, Kimball of Geauga-Lake, Manck of Lawrence, Painter of Wood and Willis of Hardin.

Code Passed.

The code came to a vote in the senate and passed by a strict party vote, every Republican senator voting for it. The proposition of Senator Decker of Paulding to strike from the code all reference to the so-called curative act precipitated a volume of discussion at the opening of the session. Senator Royer of Seneca county spoke on his amendment to substitute the Okey-Royer-York code for the Nash code. The Royer amendment was defeated by a vote of 21 Republican nays to 12 Democratic yeas.

Senator Longworth of Hamilton then offered an amendment cutting out of the code the provisions relating to police courts. He did this so that the Nash bill could be passed without a two-thirds vote. The Longworth amendment was carried by a party vote. The previous question was then demanded by Senator Patterson, the motion carried, and the amended code was passed by a strict party vote.

The senate had a lively fight over the proposition to incorporate in the code some reference to the Beal local option law and provisions giving councils authority to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, as well as to regulate the saloons themselves. Senator Harding, however, ended debate by offering an amendment (which was adopted) that provided that councils shall have power "to regulate ale, beer and porter houses and shops and the sale of intoxicating liquors as beverages, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter, repeal, amend or in any way affect the Beal local option law."

Mayor Jones' Appeal.

Toledo, Oct. 1.—Mayor Samuel M. Jones issued a proclamation calling upon the people of Toledo to assemble in mass meeting at Memorial hall here Thursday night to take some action on the coal strike situation. The mayor particularly asks that resolutions be passed encouraging the people of Boston, who have started a movement looking to the solution of the strike problem by having receivers appointed by the federal courts for those anthracite mining companies which refuse to arbitrate with their employes.

Ruptured Blood Vessel.

East Liverpool, O., Oct. 1. — John Dragon, 10, is reported dying at his home in this city. A few days ago, while at play, a companion became enraged and, it is alleged, seized Dragon by the throat and choked him so badly as to rupture a blood vessel in his neck.

Whistle Caused Death.

Norwalk, O., Oct. 1.—W. Randolph Read, the eldest engineer in service on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad, died of cerebral meningitis caused by an abscess in his ear, which was produced by the blowing of a whistle in his ear.

Trolley Crashes Into a Freight.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.—Slippery rails caused a West Broad street trolley car to crash into a freight train at Little Miami crossing. The car was wrecked and five persons injured, none fatally.

Veteran of Two Wars.

Findlay, O., Oct. 1.—Captain James Wilson, 80, a veteran of two wars—the Mexican and rebellion—died at his home in this city.

Gas For Northern Ohio.

Cleveland, Oct. 1.—The Northern Ohio Natural Gas and Pipe Line company of this city was incorporated at Columbus to pipe natural gas from the central part of the state to cities and towns in northern Ohio. Ultimately the concern will be capitalized at $1,000,000 or more. The intention of the new company is to supply natural gas to such cities as Elyria, Lorain, Norwalk and Sandusky.

Bold Robbery.

Toledo, Oct. 1.—Two masked men entered the home of Fred R. Leonard here during his absence and seized Mrs. Leonard while she was kneeling at her bed praying. They bound and gagged her and poured kerosene on her feet and threatened to ignite the oil unless she would tell where her husband's money was. She gave them her earnings and a small amount of money there was in the house. The men departed without putting their threat into execution.

Russell For Congress.

RECEIVERS

For the National Salt Company. Assets and Liabilities.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 1.—Chancellor Magie, at his home in Elizabeth, appointed Frank P. McDermot of Jersey City and Nathan S. Beardslee of Warsaw, N. Y., receivers for the National Salt company. The application for a receiver was made by Chauncey H. Strickland of New York city. The company's liabilities are given at $1,150,000 and the quick assets at $858,000. It is said that the company lost $225,000 during the first six months of the present year, and that it stands to lose $35,000 a month because of a contract under which the company was to purchase from the Michigan Salt association and others at a stipulated price about 2,000,000 barrels of salt a year. This contract does not expire until January, 1904.

FOR GOVERNOR.

The Michigan Democratic Committee Makes a Nomination.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—After an animated discussion lasting nearly three hours the Democratic state central committee selected L. T. Durand of Saginaw as the party's candidate for governor, the new nomination being made necessary by the withdrawal of Judge George H. Durand of Flint, a brother of the nominee. Judge Durand was stricken by paralysis five weeks ago, and his condition has remained such that all thought of his going through a campaign or filling the office of governor had to be abandoned.

Mysterious Suicide.

Orange, Tex., Oct. 1. — Ludwig Braun of Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., committed suicide here by taking poison. He was walking along the street and suddenly fell. When assistance reached him he stated that he had taken poison, and efforts to save his life were without avail. He told the physician that he had been in the real estate business at Richmond, but had left there in an effort to escape persecution and blackmail on the part of a man whose name he did not divulge. On his body was found a large sum of money, valuable jewelry and a passbook on a bank at Stapleton, N. Y., showing a credit of $4,000.

Date Changed.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The time for the reunion of the Fifth army corps, in connection with the Grand Army encampment to be held in this city next week, has been changed by the program committee from the night of Wednesday, Oct. 8, to the forenoon of the preceding Tuesday. There has been some dissatisfaction among the corps. The assignment for Wednesday evening was made on a misreading of an application for that date which was filled by the Sixth army corps, the word sixth being read fifth.

A Communication.

MR. EDITOR—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. Beckman, Bagnall, Mo. This remedy is for sale by C. E. Anderson, Forbes block.

ADDITIONAL RELIEF.

Secretary Shaw Moves to Relieve the Money Pressure.

ISSUES A STATEMENT TO THE BANKS.

Authorizes Action That Will Permit Them to Increase Their Volume of Business About One Hundred and Thirty Million — Present Financial Conditions and the Outlook.

New York, Sept. 30.—In a further effort to relieve the present monetary stringency, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who is now in New York, has issued a statement in which he says that the banks will hereafter not be required to carry a reserve against government deposits secured by government bonds. This will make available today over $30,000,000.

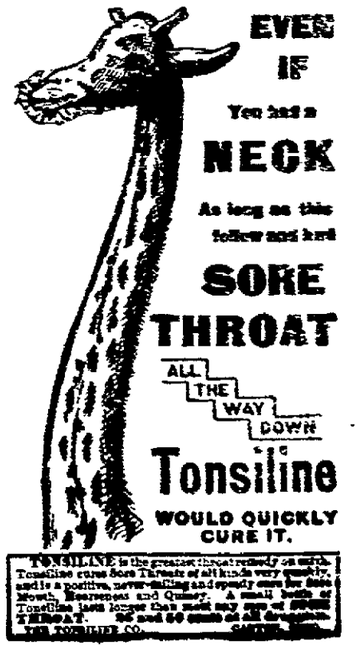

Secretary Shaw declined to discuss the financial situation further than to say that the treasury would co-operate as far as possible with the banks, both east and west, in their effort to supply the necessary credit to do the unprecedented amount of business taxing railroads and steamship lines as well as banks to the utmost. Mr. Shaw said he had never seen any good reason why banks holding a government deposit secured by government bonds should be required to carry a reserve against it. First, it is a deposit not likely to be called in a time of stringency, and second, if called the collateral will always sell for cash and in excess of the deposit. He has, since he took control of the treasury, contemplated relieving the banks of this burden. The comptroller of the currency agrees with the secretary, and therefore it is announced that hereafter banks will not be required to carry a reserve against government deposits secured by government bonds.

The secretary said he would continu to make deposits of internal revenue and miscellaneous receipts (all available for that purpose) practically $500,000 per day, as long as the situation required, and if banks were unable to obtain government bonds to secure the same he would accept the same general class of securities, municipal bonds, etc., as are made available by the laws of the several states for savings banks. By this it is not intended to loan in excess of 65 per cent of the par value, and nothing will be accepted that has not been panic-tried and proved salable for cash on call. He said he should of course determine each case by itself.

The secretary's additional relief may be summed up as follows: First, the release of practically $30,000,000 reserve, which will permit the banks to increase their volume of business $130,000,000. Second, the substitution of other securities for consuls now held by the government on condition that the same shall be used as a basis for increased circulation, which, if accepted by the banks, will immediately increase the volume about $25,000,000, and will add thereto if needed. Third, the continuation of deposits to the limit allowed by law, accepting, if necessary, securities other than government bonds.

Borrowing Money Abroad.

Vienna, Sept. 30.—The Allgemaine Zeitung says it hears that the United States has applied to some of the largest financial institutions in Vienna to borrow a portion of their gold reserve, which, owing to operations connected with the change of the monarchy's monetary system to the gold standard, is very large. The cellars of the Austro-Hungarian bank are reported to contain American gold eagles amounting to from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000. The American bankers offer to repay the loans they ask for in interest-bearing bills of exchange.

Grand Army Reunion.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The program of corps and other reunions to be held on Camp Roosevelt during next week's Grand Army encampment has been completed. About 40 meetings are provided for, including a formal dedication of the camp Monday, Oct. 6, at which Secretary Hay, General Torrance and others are to deliver speeches. The reunions are to be held in large canvas tents which are now being erected for that purpose, and which are to be designated respectively Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Farragut and Meade tents. The meetings are to extend from Monday until Friday inclusive, and owing to the large number of bodies which desire to have reunions they are to be held in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Victory For the State.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The first day's proceedings in the trial of Robert M. Snyder, the banker and promoter of Kansas City and New York, on charges of bribery in connection with the passage of the Central Traction bill several years ago, ended in a complete victory for the state, represented by Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk, every objection offered by the defense being overruled by Judge Ryan. Snyder was arraigned but refused to plead, and the court ordered the clerk to enter a plea of not guilty. The selection of a jury has begun.

Dual Execution.

Bronson, Fla., Oct. 1.—Theodore Smith and Thomas G. Faircloth, the young white men who killed the aged Lewis couple one month ago, were hanged here. Both men had wonderful nerve. They had their coffins opened and inspected and commented on them. Faircloth remarked that they were all right, and both men addressed the immense crowd with clear and unbroken voices. Both professed religion and said they were ready to die. The sons and daughters of Lewis witnessed the execution. The bodies were turned over to their relatives for interment. Smith had a young wife and baby. Faircloth was engaged to be married.

Nancy Hanks Lincoln Monument.

Indianapolis, Oct. 1.—At the place where 85 years ago the body of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of the martyred president, was buried in a crude coffin beside her husband at Lincoln City, Spencer county, Ind., was dedicated today a shaft of granite seven feet high, five feet wide and four feet thick. The dedication was conducted by the Nancy Hanks Lincoln Memorial association, which is composed of Governor Winfield T. Durbin of Indiana and a number of prominent citizens from different parts of the state. John C. Black of Chicago, ex-pension commissioner, delivered the chief address.

ZOLA'S PASSING

Caused a Stir In the French Capital. Tributes to the Author.

Paris, Sept. 30.—A deep impression has been created in Paris by the death of Emile Zola, the celebrated novelist, who was asphyxiated at his home by the fumes from a defective stove. Mme. Zola, the author's wife, narrowly escaped the same fate. To the magistrate she explained that she woke early in the morning with a splitting headache. She wakened her husband and asked him to open a window. She saw him rise and attempt to move toward a window, but he staggered and fell to the floor unconscious. Mme. Zola fainted at the same moment and was, therefore, unable to give an alarm. When Mme. Zola was informed of her husband's death she was very much affected.

M. Zola gained additional prominence in recent years because of his defense of Jews and of former Captain Dreyfus. He had been resting from literary work since he finished his book called "The Truth," which is being published in serial form in The Aurore. The obituary notices pay tributes to M. Zola's high literary talent. The Temps says French letters have suffered a loss which will be keenly felt. The newspapers judge M. Zola's role in the Dreyfus affair according to political bias. M. Zola was born in Paris, April 2, 1840.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully, and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me." For sale by C. E. Anderson, Forbes block.

"I am using a box of Chamberlain Stomach and Liver Tablets and find them the best thing for my stomach I ever used," says T. W. Robinson, justice of the peace, Loomis, Mich. These tablets not only correct disorders of the stomach but regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. E. Anderson, No. 2, Forbes block.

PALMA DISCUSSES CUBA

Satisfied With Progress the New Republic Has Made.

FIRST FOUR MONTHS' EXPERIENCE

Cuban President Would Like to See American Artillery Withdrawn From the Island—The Proposed Big Loan.

On the occasion of the ending of the first four months of "Cuba libre" President Palma gave the Havana correspondent of the New York Tribune an interview, in the course of which he said:

"Our first four months of self government has been as successful as any one could expect. We have paid all expenses of government and have a surplus. Everything is running smoothly and to my entire satisfaction."

A statement of President Palma in regard to the retention of United States artillerymen in Cuba will be of great interest in the United States and particularly to Washington officials. He said:

"It will be a source of gratitude and rejoicing for the Cuban people when the American troops are all withdrawn, and I hope it will be soon. They are not needed. Their presence has a bad moral effect. It looks to some as though the United States government has no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to maintain peace and govern themselves."

The old veteran spoke with considerable feeling as he said this.

"I don't want to be misunderstood," he added. "We are grateful to the Americans, but the people cannot feel free with American soldiers all around them. They are not needed to protect us from outsiders, and if they ever are they could be quickly dispatched here. Our artillery force, when increased to 5,000 men, will be sufficient for the country."

As to the question of reciprocity, President Palma said he hoped for favorable action by the United States senate at the coming session. The insertion of a Cuban plank in the Republican platform in several states he considers an augury for the success of reciprocal measures. "But," he said, "we want no reciprocity that will affect our commerce with other countries. Our ports must be open to the world, and we must foster commercial relations with every country. The reciprocity measure must be of equal benefit to both countries."

The chief executive is studying internal taxes in force in other republics. He intends recommending internal taxes on cigars, cigarettes, wines and other luxuries. The tax will be slight, but sufficient to raise large revenues.

In the matter of the loan of $35,000,000, in which congress gave the president a free hand to act, the latter said:

"The borrowing of so large a sum is a serious question for Cuba, and I must first carefully study it before deciding what to do. Of course, if we do decide to borrow, we will fulfill all requirements of the Platt amendment as to setting aside enough for a sinking fund and interest."

FARLEY'S PROMOTION.

Parishioner of New Archbishop Extended Congratulations.

Archbishop Elect John M. Farley enjoys a good story as well as the next, says the New York Times, and when passing a social hour sometimes recounts his experiences. At a dinner given to the Very Rev. Dean Llags in Yonkers several weeks ago the bishop related the following to the delectation of the assembled guests:

"It was shortly after I had been made vicar general, or monsignore—I do not remember which—when an aged Irishwoman encountered me on the street. She was a good old soul and had been a member of our parish church for years. Grasping me by the hand, she remarked:

"'Oh, father, and sure the Lord bless you. I hear they gave you a rise.'

"I replied that her information was correct.

"'Well,' she responded, 'an' I'm pleased for that. It's yourself that deserves the rise.'

"I thanked the good woman sincerely and was about to leave her when, still holding my hand, she remarked:

"'An' all I hope is that the next rise they give you will be to heaven.'"

BOY STOPS SCHOOL STRIKE

Insists That Pupils Take Advantage of Present Opportunities.

Condy McCole, nine years old, a breaker boy, stopped the strike of a couple of hundred pupils at the Hillard Grove school, this city, says a Wilkesbarre (Pa.) dispatch, by a whole some bit of advice. The pupils were going to leave school because some of the children had relatives working at the mines. Condy was asked to make the speech to the principal, D. L. O'Neill, but instead he spoke to them.

"When there ain't no strike," he said "I've got to work in the breaker, and now, when I can go to school, I'm goin to get all the schoolin' I can and not go on no strike, and that's what all of you ought to do."

That ended the proposed strike.
